Mooring with ropes is a time consuming and risk-laden business often resulting in a dangerous and inefficient operation. The Cavotec Group now offers a solution to all traditional mooring problems; The MoorMaster® automated mooring system. The system operates at the push of a button, allowing automatic mooring and unmooring of ships in less than 12 seconds. Thanks to its innovative design and programming, the MoorMaster® can actively control ship motion alongside a quay, ensuring an efficient loading and unloading process. Furthermore, MoorMaster® has shown to be the proven solution for ports exposed to swell and long waves, for ships of any size.

The Cavotec Group is an internationally operating group consisting of 7 manufacturing Centres of Excellence, 5 local manufacturing units and 27 national sales companies. Locally present throughout the world, the Cavotec Group is a world leader in supplying innovative power and control systems to mobile equipment.
